SUPPORT OF PEKING GOVT FUTILE SAYS JAPAN PAPER

Only Helps Continue The Internal Warfare Says The Advertiser

MUST SAVE SELF

China's Chaos Solvable Only By Herself Is Opinion

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Nov. 3.—The Japan Advertiser of today, in the course of its leading article under the caption of China and the Washington Conference, writes in the main as follows:

"What can be looked forward to at the Washington Conference is the protection of the vast interests of China. Should either of the two Governments in China be assisted, such a step would create a most dangerous factor. The internal affairs of China should naturally be solved from within and not from outside.

"To help the Peking Government only means the procrastination of China's internal disturbances. The best way to help China most effectively lies in the withdrawal of the recognition of the Peking Government on the part of the Powers.

"It may fairly be said that China can get clear of her present chaotic state of affairs only by her own exertions."

EXCHANGE OF VISITS

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, Nov. 3.—In return for the visit paid him yesterday by the Commander of the U. S. Squadron on the Yantzekiang, General Wu Pei-fu made a visit to the American Commander today. It is expected that General Wu tomorrow will invite to a banquet prominent foreigners and Chinese in Government service and private life.

Hankow, Nov. 4.—It is understood that General Wu Pei-fu will complete his important business here by the 10th instant and then will proceed to Paotingfu, where he will confer with Marshal Tsao Kun on various questions. He is also expected to visit Loyang, but according to the rumor, it seems unlikely that he will enter Peking.

Among those, who are at present in conference with General Wu Pei-fu here, are Hsiao Kwang-li, representative of President Hsu, Li Ping-chih, representative of Premier Chin, Tsao Shao-ahan, representative of Marshal Tsao Kun, Liu Chien, representative of General Chi Hsieh-yuan, Pan Yu-kuei, representative of General Chen Kuang-yuan, Huan Yung, representative of General Chao Heng-ti, Kuo Chang-ming, representative of General Liu Tsun-hou, Chang Fang, representative of General Yu Yu-jen, and Ma Chi, representative of General Lu Yung-ting.

WANTS SHEN ON JOB

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, Nov. 3.— Wu Pei-fu has telegraphed to the Government requesting that the appointment of Shen Hung-yung as Commissioner of Defense be officially made by presidential mandate as early as possible. After this is issued, Shen will be placed in charge of all the territory of Southern Hunan and will be responsible for its defense.

WANTS FUKIEN TO HELP

Amoy, Nov. 3.—Reports received by the Commissioner here state that Wu Pei-fu has sent a representative named Yao to Foochow to see Tuchun Li Hou-chi and urge him to bring about a union of Fukien and Kiangsi for defense measures against the Cantonese army.

SAY CHEN FAILS SUN

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Nov. 1.—Authoritative reports from Canton indicate that General Chen Chiung-ming will not support Dr. Sun Yat-sen in his proposed campaign against the north. As it would seem virtually impossible for the Cantonese Government to proceed without General Chen's aid and support, it is believed in foreign circles that the aggressive plans of Dr. Sun will collapse and that the punitive expedition will never materialise.

EXHIBITORS AT MOTOR SHOW TO ASSEMBLE TODAY

Meeting To Be Held At Exhibition Buildings For Discussion Of Arrangements

Exhibitors at the automobile show which will open at Verdun Gardens three weeks from today will meet at the show grounds at two o'clock this afternoon for a conference on arrangements. The meeting was arranged at the suggestion of Chairman Honigsberg, of the House Committee, who wants the exhibitors to see the "lay out" of the buildings before planning their displays.

For the convenience of the exhibitors, Chairman White, of the building committee, arranged with the contractors to have five booths completed by the time the meeting is called, so the exhibitors can see exactly what they will have to work with in arranging their displays. An extra force of carpenters was kept busy yesterday boxing in the big bamboo poles which support the roof of the main building. These poles are to be made ten inches square nine feet up from the base at which height there is to be a shelf for the placing of plants and flowers. Above the flowers there will be light fixtures.

FIX SIZE OF SIGNS

The meeting today is largely for the purpose of determining upon a size for the advertising signs that are to be placed in the booths. Chairman Honigsberg has assembled a number of photographs of other automobile shows, and with these as a basis a suitable plan will be worked out. It is the committee's intention to restrict the size of the signs as much as possible, so as not to mar the beauty of the show as a whole.

Those of the exhibitors who have not yet seen the show buildings will be amazed when they visit the grounds today. The floor area in the main building is nearly two acres, or twelve mow. This is exclusive of the dancing pavilion and other buildings, which cover another six mow.

The work of decorating the buildings will begin early next week, and will continue a week or ten days. This will leave another week or ten days for the installation of exhibits, thus insuring the complete readiness of the exhibition by the time of the scheduled opening on Nov. 26.

Peffer And Wile To Tell Story Of The Conference

THE CHINA PRESS is enabled to announce that it will be represented at the Washington Conference by Nathaniel Peffer and by Frederic William Wile, as well as by other prominent writers. Nathaniel Peffer for several years has been connected with this paper, both in a local editorial capacity and as its Peking correspondent, and his articles on Far Eastern affairs have been published in leading newspapers and periodicals in America and accepted as being among the best contributions emanating from any expert source. His reputation in America today is that of a writer possessed of an exceptionally sound background for consideration of Far Eastern topics.

Frederick William Wile, Lord Northcliffe has described as the best informed writer on European affairs. Of his preliminary work on the Washington Conference CHINA PRESS readers have had some striking examples.

With two such men handling the news from Washington Shanghai is assured of a record of the proceedings which cannot be beaten and probably will not be equalled by the staff writers of any other publication in the world.

British Chambers Protest Continued Famine Taxes; Conclude Conference Today

Failure Of Government To Make Reports Cited In Surtax Complaint; Shanghai Mint Tenders And Canton Stamp Levies Also Draw Fire

Protests to the continued levying of famine surtaxes, to the imposition of stamp taxes by the Canton government and to the way in which tenders were invited for materials for the proposed Shanghai mint were embodied in resolutions passed by the Associated British Chambers of Commerce in conference at the Supreme Court here yesterday.

In its protest to the continuance of the famine surtaxes the Association calls attention to the failure of the Government to publish proper accounts of the administration of famine funds and to the persistent reports of their misappropriation.

In its objection to illegal stamp taxes the meeting points in particular to the recent imposition of a tax upon wine and tobacco by the Southern government.

In the matter of the mint the Association declares that the terms specified for bids make it impossible for British firms to compete on even terms.

The conference ends with this morning's session and the delegates and guests will be entertained at dinner at the Shanghai Club this evening.

At this morning's meeting any business left over will be finished up and the concluding address of the chairman will be given. Among the guests who will be present at tonight's dinner will be Rear-Admiral Maclachlan, C.B., R.N., Admiral Borrett, Vice-Admiral Sir Alexander Duff, K.C.B., R.N., Sir Everard Fraser and Judge Skinner Turner.

The following are the resolutions which were passed yesterday morning:

CABLE COMMUNICATION

That in view of the notoriously defective state of the present telegraph system at Swatow and the urgent necessity for early improvement, the Eastern Extension Australasia and China Telegraph Co., Ltd., be requested to continue energetically their negotiations with the Chinese Government on the subject of a Cable Station at Swatow. Further, that if the Chinese Government by excessive demands for royalty or other obstructive acts continue to prevent the work being undertaken or cause further unreasonable delays, H. M. Minister at Peking be asked to enlist the aid of the whole Diplomatic Body to bring such pressure to bear on the Chinese Government at Peking and the Provincial Government in the South as will ensure the withdrawal of unacceptable conditions and obtain their agreement to the work being put in hand.

CHIHLI RIVER COMMISSION

That this Conference resolves to communicate to H. M. Minister in Peking the satisfaction with which it views the continued activity of the Commission for the Improvement of the River System of Chihli, and request H. M. Minister to make every effort to procure for the Commission adequate financial support for approved schemes.

FAMINE SURTAXES

That in view of the failure of the Chinese Government to publish proper accounts of the administration of the surtaxes collected for famine relief and in view of the persistent reports from Chinese sources of the misapplication of the funds thus acquired, notably in their alleged diversion to military purposes, this Conference is of the opinion that every effort should be made to achieve the cessation of the

YUGO-SLAVS START FORAY ON ALBANIANS HOUSE HEARS

New War Begins With Newly Freed Nation As Aggressor

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 3.—In the House of Commons at question-time today, Mr. Cecil Harmsworth admitted that the Yugo-Slav forces had advanced into Albania in the direction of Ura.

He said that this aggression was unjustified and unprovoked and the Conference of Ambassadors had very strongly remonstrated with the Yugo-Slav Government. It was for the Albanian Government themselves to appeal to the League of Nations.

Lord Robert Cecil contended that Britain was bound under Article Sixteen of the Covenant to take steps to convoke the Council on this matter unless Britain was going to treat her obligations as a scrap of paper and he asked leave to move an adjournment until Monday to debate the matter.

SOVIET NOTE ON PATH OF HONOR SAYS BRITISH NOTE

Wants To Have Exact Statement Of Debt To Be Recognised

(French Wireless through Reuter)

London, Nov. 2.—The text of the British reply to the Soviet Note with reference to Russian debts declares that in announcing its intentions regarding foreign debts the Soviet Government has started upon the only path which can lead to the goal which it professes to desire, namely, economic co-operation with other nations. The British Government asks for further information before it can, in conjunction with the other Governments with which it is associated in the International Famine Commission, decide its attitude.

An explicit statement is asked of the Soviet's intentions regarding its obligations other than those mentioned, such as loans to the Tsarist Government since 1914, municipal and railway loans and claims by foreign owners for property in Russia confiscated or destroyed by the Soviet.

DUTCH HAVE 200 MILLION NAVY PLANS FOR 12 YEARS

SOERABAYA BASE

Aircraft And U-Boats To Figure Largely In The Scheme Of Defense

(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, Nov. 4.—The Government has introduced into the Second Chamber a new naval program, aiming at the defense of the Motherland and the Colonies by the means of small craft and material, such as submarines, torpedoboats, mines and aircraft, which will be supplementary to the existing fleet.

In view of the financial position the Government has decided at present to confine itself to a program for six years. The program involves the expenditure of 200,000,000 guilders to be spread over twelve years.

A base will be established at Tandjongpridk and later Soerabaya will also be transformed into an auxiliary base.

The Liu Archipelago will be provided with an auxiliary base and Macassar will be provided with a battery of medium-calibre guns.

ITALY WATCHING CASES OF REDS

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

Rome, Nov. 2.—Italy's Foreign Minister, Marquis della Torretta, has announced that intervention in the cases of Sacco and Vanzetti, Italian communists condemned to death in the United States is impossible until the court of last appeal in America has acted.

Torretta assured a committee of communists that the Government was following the cases closely. The communists visited the Foreign Office to demand action for the prevention of the execution of the two condemned murderers.

BELGIUM TO GET 2 BILLION MARKS OF GERMAN CASH

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 3.—Sir Robert Horne in a written reply to Commander Kenworthy in the House of Commons today says that the next payment, due to the Allies from Germany, is 500,000,000 gold marks due in January, this being the third quarterly instalment of the 2,000,000,000 due annually under Article Four of the schedule of payments.

He states that the effect of the payment on the German exchange will depend on the form which the payment alternatively takes under the Treaty.

Regarding the distribution of payments, Sir Robert Horne mentions that, after the costs of the Army of Occupation have been met from the payments, Belgium has priority to a cash receipt of 2,000,000,000 gold marks.

U.S. IMMIGRATION STATION SCORED BY HARMSWORTH

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 3.—In the House of Commons today at question-time Mr. Cecil Harmsworth said that his attention had been called to the conditions under which British subjects were detained at Ellis Island immigration station.

Judging from the distressing accounts received, their treatment would justify very strong complaint. He regretted that repeated representations to the United States Government had hitherto been without result, but further negotiations were proceeding which it was hoped would lead to permanent improvement.

Celebrates Seventh Anniversary Of The Battle Of The Marne

FRANCE celebrated, at Meaux, the seventh anniversary of the first victory of the Marne. The little town of the Department of the Seine-et-Marne was gayly decorated with flags for the double ceremony—for the day had been chosen also for the decoration of Meaux and the surrounding communities with the Croix-de-Guerre. The photograph shows the procession visiting the cemetery of Chambry, near Meaux, where the heroes of the Marne are resting.

Jazz Band Is Invention Of The "Bang" Dynasty

By Elsie McCormick

We were going to start this out by a remark about when the shades of night are falling fast, but we won't, because most of the people in Shanghai don't pull down the shades. However, when night drops a black blanket on the city and proceeds to tuck it in, and the lights begin to twinkle like the diamonds worn on Foochow Road, Shanghai settles down for an evening interview with Orpheus. In Berkeley, California, they used to have what they called a Half Hour of Music, but in Shanghai it deserves to be called known as the Hour of Half Music.

From the tea-houses comes a sound as of barrels of dishes being rolled downstairs and trespassing on the terminals of several cats along the way; from rice-shops zigzag the drunk and disorderly notes emitted by Chinese phonograph records through red, flower-like horns; and from many an alley-way stagger the inebriated melodies originated by some lone follower of a Muse—melodies that ought to be locked up for trying to impersonate music.

PERILS HAVE JAZZ

Occasionally there is a little variation in the concert, such as we noted the other evening when we passed a residence occupied by some of Mr. Hearst's Perils of the Pacific, and noted Papa Peril, Mama Peril and Baby Perils all sitting on the floor around a horn, as they listened with rapt attention to the query, "How 'r U Goin' To Keep 'Em Down on the Farm, After They've Seen Paree?"

But as we said before, music is a great institution in Shanghai. As the back area of our house is infested both by cats and Chinese musicians, we don't dare follow our impulses and throw out detached sections of the kitchen range. It happens that we are rather fond of cats.

The music that to the foreign ear deserves to rank in the Criminal Code with arson in the first degree is as harmonious to ears trained to appreciate it as the best numbers of Mr. Paci's orchestra. Confucius regarded music as an essential part of the government of a state, its function being to harmonise and soften the relations between different ranks of society. According to Confucius' biographers, he was so struck by a certain tune that he did not taste food for three weeks afterwards.

SPOILED OUR TIFFIN

As far as this sentiment is concerned, we can sympathise with Confucius. We had to listen to a Chinese orchestra during a tiffin party once and we felt just the same way.

There are 72 different varities of instruments in the Chinese catalogue of harmony, including seventeen kinds of drums. One treatise on how to beat drums scientifically, which was written about 860 A.D., deserves to be translated for the benefit of modern jazz orchestras. The same essay contains a list of 129 symphonies, all of which could be perpetrated by the use of drums alone, with the occasional aid of cowbells and cymbals.

In the days before Shih Huang-ti destroyed learning by a great conflagration of books, Chinese music is believed to have consisted of twelve semi-tones. When the ashes were raked over, only six notes were found to have survived the blaze, and if we may be permitted to shuffle the metaphor, we might remark that Chinese music ever since has been hitting on only half the usual number of cylinders. Some of the more complicated melodies have eight notes, but in the majority of Chinese tunes, the extra two rank merely as promissory.

NO KEY TO UNLOCK IT

There is no chromatic scale, harmony and counterpoint are as absent as Bergdoll, and the tunes are not set to any key. In spite of these deficiencies, written music is so complicated that most Chinese prefer to play by ear. In scores for the lute, each note has so many characters as a Sir Walter Scott novel. One denotes the string, another the stud, a third the position of the right hand, a fourth the position of the left, and the fifth tells the performer how to slide his hand when the correct note has been struck. By the time the performer has read all these, the rest of the orchestra is ahead by three bars and six drinks.

The most highly-esteemed instrument in the list of Chinese assaulters of the ear-drum is the scholar's lute, a harmony machine four feet long and eighteen inches wide, crossed by seven strings of silk. It is called the "kin," which means to prohibit, because, as one of the sages remarks, "it restrains and checks the passions and corrects the human heart." Which goes to prove again that music is only a point of view. Probably the sages could have got a lot of moral uplift out of listening to a donkey-engine.

TORTURE OF HU JIN

The instrument which does most to make Shanghai the City of Dreadful Night is the two-stringed fiddle, which a Chinese Stradivarus can perpetrate out of a stick of bamboo thrust into a cylinder of the same material, and three idle

CUT DOWN SHIPS

Size Of Battleships Also Calibre Of Guns Is Point Of Attack

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

London, Nov. 5.—Owing to the seriousness of the Irish situation it is extremely unlikely that Lloyd George will be able to sail to America Saturday to attend the Disarmament Conference. A final effort is being made to avert a breakdown of the Irish conference and negotiations have been resumed.

There is reason to believe that Japan and Britain are in full accord regarding their policy on Chinese affairs at the Washington Conference. It is also probable that the principle of small ships lightly equipped with guns will be the basis for limitation of naval armament.

The outstanding question here is whether America, who has withdrawn from European affairs, will depart from her traditional policy of isolation and co-operate with Japan and Britain for the regeneration of China.

Default In Loan Is Hurting China's Case

BY JABIN HSU

(Staff Correspondent of The China Press)

Washington, Nov. 3.—Premier Lloyd George, according to authoritative information reaching Washington today, has abandoned his plans for attending the Pacific Conference which opens here a week from Saturday. The premier, according to tentative arrangements announced a short time ago, was to have sailed from England today in order to be on hand when the initial sessions of the Conference are held.

Just what prompted the last-minute decision not to attend the Conference is not known. For some time past, however, there has been considerable indecision regarding the matter. Lloyd George, it was said, felt a strong personal desire to be on hand and remain in Washington for at least the first three weeks of the meeting. It is believed that inability to reach a definite settlement on the many problems which Great Britain is at present facing within the empire, particularly the Irish situation, have finally resulted in keeping the Premier in London.

Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese envoy at the Court of St. James, and Dr. Wang Chung-hui arrived in Washington last night and are organising the Chinese delegation with a sizeable staff. Members of the delegation are disgruntled over the fact that their salaries have not been paid since their departure from Shanghai.

HURTS CHINA'S CASE

The American press generally has adopted a sympathetic attitude toward the Chinese, but the propaganda campaign conducted by Ma Soo, Dr. Sun Yat-sen's personal representative in America, and the failure of the Peking government to repay the loan made by the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago are both hurting China's case at the conference.

Particular concern is being displayed over China's failure to arrange for the repayment of the loan extended by the bank, and it is felt here that the defaulting may lead to serious complications.

BORDEN POINTS MORAL

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Nov. 3.—Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian representative to the Disarmament Conference, in a speech today at the Lawyers' Club emphasised the paramount importance of co-operation between the English-speaking peoples.

He called attention to the Americo-Canadian Disarmament Agreement of 1817 which was not even couched in the terms of a solemn treaty but nevertheless the record of it was not stained by a blot of violation. The terms of it covered not only the Great Lakes but its spirit extended to the entire aboundary.

It contained a moral and a lesson to the statesmen who would shortly assemble in Washington.

BALFOUR EN ROUTE

(Special To The China Press)

London, Nov. 2.—Balfour is in Liverpool enroute to Washington via Quebec.

CHINESE GIVEN ESCORT

(Special To The China Press)

Peking, Nov. 1.—According to word received at the Foreign Office from Washington, the members of the Chinese delegation to the Pacific Conference have now arrived in that city. The first delegates arrived in San Francisco on October 26 where they were met by a representative of the United States State Department and two officers representing the army and navy.

Reaching Washington on September 30, they were officially welcomed by the Assistant Secretary of State and then escorted to the Hotel Cairo by a mounted guard of honor. They will stay at this hotel while in Washington during the deliberations of the Pacific Conference.

CONDUCTS LEGATION

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 1.—Dr. Wellington Koo has reported that during his absence at the Washington Conference Mr. Chu Chow-hsin, First Secretary of the Legation at London, will act as Charge d'Affaires.

(Special To The China Press)

Washington, Nov. 2.—The Japanese delegation headed by Admiral Kato and Baron Tokuguwa arrived here. It was met by Secretaries Hughes and Denby, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and others. The Japanese is the first delegation of any nation to be completely in Washington.

PEACE AND PROSPERITY

London, Nov. 3.—The American Ambassador, Col. Harvey, in a speech at the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce said that he firmly believed that the most beneficial outcome of the Washington Conference would be closer political relationship between Britain and America and more intimate and mutually advantageous commercial cooperation was bound to follow.

Thus the Conference would guarantee not only peace but prosperity. Referring to a speech by Lord Derby, urging an Anglo-French Alliance and hoping that the United States would join it in the future, Col. Harvey declared that it was utterly impossible for the United States to enter any present alliance.

PREMIER YET MAY GO

London, Nov. 2.—The Prime Minister has cancelled his passage on the Aquitania which is to sail on Saturday, but he has not yet abandoned hope of going to Washington later.

SECRET SESSIONS AGAIN

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Washington, November 3.—The United States delegates to the Washington Conference on Tuesday held a preliminary meeting to consider methods of disarmament. They discussed the proposal for a reduction of expenditure on the Army and Marine according to a certain percentage of the total expenditure of each State.

According to the Chicago Tribune, this limitation of armaments would be under the direction and control of some form of international tribunal. There would be no recourse to force and no central organisation with international officials but merely a system of treaties, negotiated between the nations according to the ordinary rules. The decisions of the tribunal would not be based on any means of constraint except the pressure of public opinion.

MORE STAR CHAMBERS!

It is announced, moreover, that the deliberations of the Conference will not be made public. Although thousands of journalists from all countries are expected at Washington they will not be admitted to the sittings.

An official witness from the Department of State will each day deliver a summary of the proceedings to the press. There will be public sessions, however, to which the public will be admitted. The reports of the committees will be published in extenso with the arguments for and against.

Up to the present official circles in Washington are maintaining extreme reserve in order not to anticipate the conclusions of the conference, not to influence it and not to hinder it in any way.

The journalists and delegates to the Conference however are not so reticent. The Special Correspondent of the Echo de Paris at Washington telegraphs that the United States is proposing to maintain touch with the other nations by periodical international meetings.

He then explains the American point of view on disarmament according to which:

FINE FOR JAPAN, BUT CHINA?

The special position of the individual Powers must be considered. Having regard to its food problem, Britain would be authorised not to disarm below a certain level. China's effort at independent development must be reconciled with Japanese expansion. No national or provincial loan must be concluded by China outside the Consortium, which is the instrument of international action. Japan must not be disturbed in the exploitation of the Manchurian railways, etc.

DR. WU GIVES VIEW

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Canton, Nov. 4.—Dr. Wu Ting-fang, who is in charge of affairs here for the Southern government during the absence of President Sun Yat-sen on his punitive expedition against the North, today issued the following statement outlining his views on the disarmament conference in response to a query put to him by the correspondent of THE CHINA PRESS.

"As one whose services have been dedicated to the great cause of world peace, I welcome the Washington Conference on Limitation of Armaments.

"But disarmament is impossible without a right solution of the Chinese question. Such a solution depends on the establishment of an enlightened national government deriving its authority from and answerable to the Chinese people as stated in the Chinese constitution.

"As long as the incapable, corrupt Peking government is kept alive by recognition of the foreign powers this solution is impossible."

NOT WAR BUT PEACESHIPS

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 2.—Baron Hayashi, Mr. Shimidzu, members of the Embassy staff and several English guests, including well-known artists, were entertained at a dinner given by Mr. Matsukata, the Japanese shipowner and art collector, who in a speech, referred to Japan's indebtedness to the British in the fields of Science, Commerce and Industry.

Baron Hayashi, in a short speech, said that he thought Japan should content herself with the peaceful side of the shipbuilding industry.

Lord Aberconway and Mr. Samuel were among the speakers.

Y.M.C.A. ASKS PRAYERS

Hankow, Nov. 3.—The Chinese Young Men's Christian Association here has received a telegram from the associated society at Peking stating, that as the Pacific Conference is drawing nearer, prayer-meetings shall be held simultaneously by all the Christian associations throughout China on November 6 for the sake of the peace of the world.

Supreme Effort To Lift Burden Asked By Labor

(Reuter's Service)

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Labor Party's motion for tomorrow's debate on the Washington Conference says:

"The House warmly approves the meeting of the Conference at Washington and trusts that a supreme effort will be made to arrive at such a measure of agreement as to secure substantial progressive reduction of the crushing burden of armaments."

Reference to a private traffic in armaments is omitted in the interests of unity.

SAGHALIEN MAY BE PUT BEFORE THE CONFERENCE

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 3.—In the House of Commons today, Commander Kenworthy raised the question of the continued occupation of Vladivostok and part of Saghalien.

Mr. Harmsworth in the course of his reply said that he was not in possession of information as to whether the matter would be raised at the Washington Conference.

Replying to Commander Kenworthy, Mr. Harmsworth stated that the last reports showed that the British Government was maintaining 5,300 Russian refugees but the total had since decreased.

ORGANISATION PLANNED FOR WELFARE WORK

Preliminary steps were taken at a meeting at the Carlton Cafe yesterday to launch an organisation along lines suggested at the conclusion of the series of lectures on the subject of "The Salvaging of Christianity" by Dr. H. T. Hodgkin. In general the purpose of those forming the new body is to establish a fellowship to further the application of the fundamental principles of human brotherhood to social, industrial, commercial and educational life in Shanghai.

Mr. P. Peebles presided as Chairman of the meeting and Mr. W. Hawkings and Miss Johnson of the Y.W.C.A. were elected Secretaries. No definite program for future activities was arranged, but a number of proposals were discussed and it was suggested that topics for future discussion be chosen by a committee. The date of the next meeting of the organisation is to be announced.

Among the subjects brought up yesterday and which may receive attention in the future are: Unemployment in Shanghai and the question of caring for Russian refugees; child labor in Shanghai factories; censorship of moving pictures; provision for the entertainment of foreign sailors other than those of American and British nationality who are now cared for, and educational questions.

Salt Revenue Due But All Is Owing

General Li Lieh-chun, who is in command of these troops, learned of the plot, dismissed Yang, and telegraphed to Dr. Sun Yat-sen asking the latter to arrest Liang.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen will leave for Kweiling on the 7th, remain there for seven days and then proceed to Hunan.

BANKER WISHFUL OF SEEING DEBT TO BRITAIN CUT

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 4.—As a further development of a campaign which has lately appeared with a friendly reception in an influential section of the press, a meeting of the British Committee of the International Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution, moved by Mr. Walter Leaf, Chairman of the London County, Westminster and Parr's Bank, and seconded by Mr. Arthur Balfour, Director of the British Trade Corporation, urging on the Government the desirability of obtaining the benefits which will accrue, if the Allied war-debts to Britain are either reduced or cancelled.

GERMAN BONDS QUESTIONED; CUT PARLEY ON LOAN

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 3.—The Chinese Government's failure to accept the terms of the American Bankers' Group Loan is said to be due to disinclination to agree that $1,600,000 from the loan should go to the payment of interest on the German Hukuang bonds held in America.

The question of this interest has cropped up several times but the Chinese Government's attitude is that the payment of interest is suspended pending a complete settlement of China's claims against Germany in connection with the war.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 4.—With regard to the Wine and Tobacco loan of $16,000,000, about which Mr. Abott is reported to have for some time past been under negotiation with the Peking Government, being undertaken by the new consortium as its new enterprise, the American bankers' group has of late approached the Japanese bankers' group. Representatives of the thirteen banks, including the Yokohama Specie Bank, the Mitsubishi Bank, and the Sumitomo Bank, held a conference yesterday at which, after discussion, they agreed to withhold their approval for the present but have not come to a definite conclusion as yet.

levy of these surtaxes at the earliest possible date.

SERVICES OF H. M. NAVY

That this Conference places on record its appreciation of and gratitude for the services of H. M. Navy in the protection of life and property in the disturbed districts on the River Yangtsze and its tributaries and elsewhere in China.

ILLEGAL STAMP TAXES

That this Conference desires to call attention to the serious position brought about by the fact that several Provinces in China do not recognise the authority of the Peking Government, and are thus withdrawn from the effective enforcement of the Treaties through the normal diplomatic channels; and in this connection calls attention to the fact that an illegal stamp tax has recently been imposed on Wine and Tobacco by the Canton Government.

The following resolutions were passed yesterday afternoon:

THE SHANGHAI MINT

That this Conference registers an emphatic protest against the action of the Shanghai Mint authorities in inviting tenders for machinery and material required for the construction of the new Shanghai Mint based on specifications which were drawn up in a manner which made it impossible for British firms to compete on even terms with certain other competitors, and registers the opinion that this discrimination, in view of the practical interest taken by British Chambers of Commerce in the reform of Chinese currency, was uncalled for and unjust.

BRITISH COMPANY TITLES

That this Conference considers it desirable that legislation be enacted whereby the word 'British' or other word or words of similar import be required to be used after the names of all British Companies carrying on business in China present or future.

STOCK EXCHANGES

That this Conference urges upon the attention of the Shanghai Municipal Council the necessity of seeking powers without delay to combat the evil threatened to the International Settlement by the prevalence of gambling institutions carrying on business under the guise of Stock and Produce Exchanges.

MARKS NOW NEAR HA'PENNY MARK

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 3.—German marks on London have depreciated to 840 due to the increasing German deficit, unlimited note printing and the undoubted flight of capital from Germany. German business houses are exporting goods and leaving the money in respect to them abroad. Moreover the Reichsbank has recently abstained from buying marks abroad and paying for them out of its holdings of foreign bills etc. It is also said that Germany has failed in her attempts to raise a loan abroad.

INDIA RAISES OIL TAX

EARLY CHINESE WRITING IS TOPIC OF CLUB LECTURE

Dr. Darroch Gives Interesting Talk To American Club Department

Illustrating his talk with lantern slides Dr. John Darroch yesterday delivered a most interesting and instructive lecture on "The Origin and Development of Chinese Writing" before the literary department of the American Woman's Club.

The meeting, which was held at the Asiatic Society hall, was presided over by Mrs. H. A. Wilbur and among those present was Mrs. Florena Ayscough, who has just returned from America, where she has been completing arrangements for the publication, in collaboration, with Miss Amy Lowell, of a collection of Chinese poems. She was introduced to the meeting as one of the "Elder Statesmen," whose counsel and advice had always been available to the program committee and whose assistance has always been found of the greatest value. Mrs. Ayscough congratulated the department upon the program prepared for the year and dwelt upon the inspiration of thorough-going study, emphasising its value at this time, when America is flooded with articles on China, many of which are incorrect.

Dr. Darroch's talk on the origin of the language took his audience back to caligrophy in its earliest forms. The first slides shown were of the most ancient evidences on record, pictographs of such concrete objects as hills, the moon and sun and various nature forms. All alphabets, he pointed out, have begun in the same way—that of the cave man writing upon a bone, or that of the American Indian leaving a message for his squaw upon a strip of birch bark.

The second group of slides showed combinations of two known charactered to illustrate abstract ideas. Brightness, for instance, was indicated by a combination of characters alluding to the sun and moon; a forest by two trees placed close together, while three trees came to signify something gloomy, dense or stern. Characters meaning fire and flood grew to stand for calamity.

One slide showed three forms of the character for "kingdom." Each was in the form of a hollow square to indicate the frontiers of a country. The most ancient of these forms—4,000 years old—enclosed a drawing of a mouth, to indicate the population the country must support, and a spear, by which the country must be defended. The second square—a 2,000-year-old character—enclosed merely the sign of the emperor, indicating that the king had become the state and that tyranny ruled. The third square enclosed the sign for the people, which character was invented at the time of the revolution in 1911.

The character for "good" combined the signs meaning woman and child; that for "seize" the signs for tiger and pig, while that signifying "republic" consists of two hands upholding one vessel and meaning literally "you and I together, holding up."

In the course of his discourse Dr. Darroch told many interesting stories descriptive of the development of Chinese characters, dealing in a particularly interesting way with their uses in poetry and in the favorite Chinese pastime of punning.

It was announced that the next meeting of the department will be held on November 18, when two papers will be read by members. One will be by Mrs. W. F. Beaman on "The Collection and Preservation of Early Chinese Records" and the other by Mrs. C. H. Robertson on "The Golden Age of Yao and Shun."

Smacking Of Lips Over Wine Ends When Police Raid

(Special To The China Press)

Washington, Nov. 2.—In the most spectacular liquor raid ever staged in Washington the entire detective force of the police headquarters recovered a large part of $20,000 worth of choice wines and liquors which had been stolen from the Virginia Estate of Joseph Leiter last night after a revolver duel in which no one was seriously injured. Four were arrested.

The police swooped down on the home of William Cady, the leader of Washington bootleggers, in the exclusive residential district of the Capitol. The whole gang is said to have been captured. The Cady family, the police said, were sitting about the table drinking some of Leiter's choicest Italian wine. The woodshed was found stacked high with liquor.

movements. As the bow must pass through the narrow space between the two strings, the test of skill in playing consists of being able to wield the bow so as not to irritate more than one string at a time. Personally, we think that the fiddle would be greatly improved by the removal of both strings.

A canteen opened on board a transport carrying coolie labor battalions to France made the strategic error of selling Chinese fiddles. Every coolie on board bought one and as early as the third day out all the ventilators on board were taxed to the limit getting rid of bad airs. Incidentally, more foreign officers went insane in this branch of the service than in any other.

There are as many Chinese instruments of music as there are instruments of torture and both are constructed on the same principle. The catalogue includes an embryo piano consisting of brass wires fastened on a sounding board and played with a hammer; a flute with ten holes, twice the length of a foreign fife; the "crowing lute," with a cocoanut for a body; stone chimes, consisting of pieces of rock hung in a frame; a wooden fish hollowed out inside and patted on the head with a potato-masher; and musical vases, consisting of twelve cups filled with varying quantities of water, which are struck with light rods.

CAT CONCERTINA LACKING

About the only thing that seems to be missing is a cat concertina. This instrument is composed of cats of many sizes, confined in small boxes with apertures for tails. The performer pulls the tail of any sized cat called for in the melody, and thus achieved a range from high treble to bass.

But he who scoffs at Chinese music loses a large contribution of face when he discovers that a Chinese instrument gave Kratzenstein, an organ builder of Petrograd, an idea for perfecting organ stops, to say nothing of being the direct inspiration for the accordion. Kratzenstein's invention was the result of seeing a "sheng," a Chinese instrument composed of a hollow, conical shaped box, with a mouthpiece on each side and thirteen reeds of different length inserted in the top. Though grateful for the organ stops, we fear that if the accordion invention were generally known, all the apartment-house dwellers in America would demand immediate withdrawal from the Disarmament Conference and a general mobilisation against Chinese laundries.

WARPED MUSIC IS RIGHT

A warp of decidedly Western tendencies is weaving itself through the woof of Oriental melody. The new national hymn of the Northern Government is set to the tune of "America." A visiting deputation of prominent Americans was recently greeted by a Chinese brass-band playing "The Star-Spangled Banner," though the visitors failed to remove their hats on account of not recognising the anthem until it was all over.

AND LO! THE POOR GONG

In regard to resembling other phases of modern melodies, we are reminded of the following passage by a noted sinalogue: "The lo, or gong, is the type of Chinese music. A crashing harangue of rapid blows on this sonorous plate, with a rattling accompaniment of small drums and a crackling symphony of shrill notes from the clarinet and cymbal constitute the chief features of their musical performances."

If anybody ever wrote a more graphic description of a modern jazz band, we didn't happen to read it.

HARVEY'S HEAD IS SAVED BY SMALL MARGIN OF VOTE

(Reuter's Service)

Kansas City, Nov. 3.—The Convention of the American Legion today rejected by 576 votes to 444 a resolution demanding the recall of Colonel Harvey, the United States Ambassador in London, but unanimously adopted a substitute resolution, declaring that America fought not only to maintain her rights but the freedom of the world.

Reuter's Note.—This presumably refers to the speech made by Colonel Harvey at a Pilgrims' dinner in London on May 19 in which he said it was not a fact that America sent troops overseas to save Britain, France and Italy but they were sent solely to save the United States and very reluctantly and laggardly. He said then that Americans were not too proud to fight but afraid not to fight.

ANFU SEEKING TO MAKE TROUBLE IN CAMP OF MUKDEN

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 1.—Rumors that are apparently well founded are in circulation in Peking regarding the activities of the Anfuites. It is asserted that a movement is on foot to bring about a clash between the forces of the Chihli and Fengtien factions, for which the Anfuites are promising their support to General Chang Tso-lin.

In official circles it is stated that in no circumstances would General Chang Tso-lin ally himself with his former enemies, but there is reason to believe that the Anfuites are endeavoring to bring about an upheaval and that they have made overtures to General Chang, basing their arguments on the growing power of General Wu Pei-fu and the necessity for the militarists to oppose him before he gains much further strength.

Popular opinion may attach undue importance to these rumors for many Chinese have been expecting the creation of trouble in China as the Washington Conference approaches and have seised eagerly upon those reports to prove that their prophesies are turning out correct. An interesting feature of the reports is that General Chin Yun-peng will stand by General Wu Pei-fu whatever happens.

Work On New Navy 'Y' Soon To Be Begun

The announcement that work is to be started soon upon the six-story Navy Y.M.C.A. building—which is to be equipped with gymnasium, swimming pool and all modern features—was made yesterday by Secretary Paul M. Brown in a talk given before the Social Service Department of the American Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. John Nichols, St. John's University. The site of the building is the corner of Hongkong and Szechuen Roads.

Mr. Brown's talk dealt largely with the work done by the Navy Y.M.C.A. in the war and among the sailors at Chefoo last summer.

During the summer the Navy "Y," assisted by Misses Frances Taylor, Hazel Shoub, Mildred Crane, Lina Willis and Grace Maddox, who gave up their vacations entertained thousands of sailors at Chefoo.

An appropriation was made by the New York "Y" and two large godowns secured, which were turned into club rooms for the sailors.

The restaurant conducted a business of $9,000 in two months, served 14,000 meals, did a $13,000 business in a general store operated at cost price; handled $18,000 in a money exchange; gave 45 movie shows which were attended by 11,000 men, held 19 religious meetings, attended by 1,100 men, 14 entertainments were attended by 5,000, and a boxing match attracted 2,000.

Entertainment was planned for the sailors from 1 to 11 p.m. daily and many letters of appreciation of the splendid work done by the Shanghai young women teachers and Y. W. C. A. workers were received.

Stamp collectors will do well to inspect the philatelic rarities now on view at Messrs. Funder's auction rooms, 49 Kiangse Road. The first issues of Mauritius, second only to the famous post offices, Nevis, Nova Scotia, etc., as well as Cape woodblocks and other numerous rarities of first class are seldom seen outside of London, and perhaps may never be seen in Shanghai again. Even for non-philatelists an inspection of these features of the stamp world is of interest. Most of the lots are still in the original covers in which they were acquired at auction in London. It is stated that some of them came from the celebrated "Ferrari" collection lately sold at auction in Paris, and which realised many millions of Francs.

W.H.C. SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT

FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

AM'N FOOTBALL MEN PRACTICE THIS AFTERNOON

Interport Games With Teams From The North Promise To Boost The Game

The squad of American football players will work out this afternoon at 3 p.m. on the Polo Field and again tomorrow morning at 10 a.m.

It is expected with the prospects of games with Peking and Tientsin, the American School and the Shanghai College in addition to the Navy already counted upon, that the local followers of the game will turn out and form a light and a heavy eleven ready for any need.

There are thirty or more candidates ready for the lineup if games are assured. Included in the number are Manager Griffin, Capt. Wilhoit, Dick Hutchinson, Rodger, Maloney, Anderson, Neprud, Tinkham, Kulp, Stovall, Jack Smith, Glauque, Dorrance, H. F. and C. B. Hewitt, Neal, Bill Harriss, Dunn, Merill, Pruitt, Posner, S. F. Smith, Marsden, Boone, Vanhook, Miller, Irle, Corcoran, Doughty, Wythe, Edwards, De Schrieber, Mahoney, Gaynor, and several others. These are all urged to be out today and tomorrow for the workout.

Manager J. E. Griffith, of the American Football Club announced yesterday that a communication has been received from the athletic officer of the Legation Guard at Peking requesting that games be arranged either at Peking or at Shanghai between the Shanghai American Football Club and the Legation Guard on Christmas Day or New Year's Day.

With the Peking Marines bidding for an interport game and Tientsin organised with infantry and civilian teams, and the Shanghai American School, and the Shanghai College already organised for the season, the Shanghai eleven is beginning to get down to serious work for the season.

The large number of candidates for the American Shanghai football team promises that two elevens must result. It is now almost certain that two elevens will be developed this fall, and that games will be had with the Shanghai American School, the Shanghai College and Navy, if not with Peking and Tientsin.

The larger boys of the American School, Herbert Waters Dud Squires, Chase, McDonald, Brewster and Kees will be out today to participate in the practice of the Shanghai team and may come out again on Sunday if they can get away from their school duties.

Many Old Timers Will See Local Fall Race Meeting

BY "RAIL BIRD"

All of the contenders for the big events in the fall race meet opening Monday are to be on the track today and on the showings made on this last day of training, the favorites will be selected, both in the selling lotteries which take place tonight and in the races.

Invincible King, hitherto favorite for the Shanghai St. Leger was considerably improved in condition yesterday and whether or not the pony will be started on Monday will be determined by its showing today.

Another casualty in the list of racers is the pony Red Pepper which went lame yesterday and which was regarded as a likely candidate in the Maiden Stakes for Monday. None of the veteran ponies were out yesterday for training and no times worth recording were scored.

The coming big meeting will be made notable by the attendance of many sportsmen from the outports, particularly by the presence here of a number of former Shanghai horsemen, who were prominent on the local race course in the days gone by. All of the delegates to the British trade conference which closes today will remain over for the meeting.

Among the Shanghai old timers here to attend the races is Mr. F. B. Marshall, who arrived from Formosa. He was the owner of the celebrated "Tree" stable, which included such well remembered names as Cherry Tree, Willow Tree, and Persimmon Tree, all former winners in the Champion Sweepstakes.

Sir Paul Chater of Hongkong, owner of the Dahlia ponies which has become so well known on local race tracks, is also here. Another one time familiar figure on the Shanghai race course attending the present meeting is Mr. H. Baker of Foochow who rode in many hard fought races in years past.

Among others who are well known are Sir Ellis Kadoorie, H. P. White, and Mr. Harry Hancock, all from Hongkong.

Basketball Men Prepare For The Season Of 1921

W. W. Bartlett, Principal of the American School, and K. W. Irle of the American-Oriental Banking Corporation will lead the two basketball teams of the Y.M.C.A. in the Foreign League this fall. The two captains were decided upon on the "Y" meeting Thursday night. Dr. J. H. Gray, Honorary Secretary of the last Olympic Games committee, suggested that the two captains get together and choose their teams from the list of those who have sent in their names. This will probably be done within the next few days.

A good sized number of players will be available, including such men as Geldart, Pettit, Gray, Roberts, Christy, Roxburgh and Steele from last year's teams and new enthusiasts such as Van Hook, Miller, Davis, Lewis, Elliott, Runyan, Lockwood and others.

As soon as the personnel of the two groups is determined, names and colors will be chosen and plans made for pre-season practise. Any other local men who are interested in playing basketball this winter and are present or prospective members of the Y. M. C. A. are invited to send their names in.

As soon as the three or four teams that the Rowing Club will put out are organised the Foreign League Committee will be ready to go ahead with the schedule of games.

Americans Beat English In International Shoot By An 11 Point Margin

Hykes And Twogood For The Americans Register Scores Of 101; American Shoot Well With But One Exception; British Shots Disappointing; Will Be Annual Event

America beat England yesterday morning on the Rifle Range in the first of what is hoped to become an annual contest. The win was registered by a safe margin of 11 points. The match, arranged by Captain E. I. M. Barrett and Mr. W. E. Sauer was fired commencing at 7 a.m.

The shooting by Great Britain was disappointing but the American team, with one exception, shot remarkably well, Twogood and Hykes both scoring 101. The weather conditions were ideal but the early morning light is tricky and many points were dropped on this account. The Americans used the Springfield rifle and the British the .303.

It is to be hoped that this match will become an annual affair as the friendly rivalry in such matches makes for the best form of rifle shooting. The losers will provide a small trophy as a memento of the occasion to the winners.

first objective in his punitive expedition against the North.

Sun Yat-sen is now at Wuchow and will remain there until after his conference with Chen Chiung-ming on November 6, when he will proceed to Kweiling. Chen will return to Canton after the conference.

Liao Chung-ka, vice-minister of Finance for the Canton government, acting under instructions from Sun Yat-sen, is now negotiating for a foreign loan of $2,000,000 on security of the wine and tobacco monopoly in Kwantung and Kwangsi provinces, according to reliable reports.

CHEN ASKS DELAY

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Nov. 3.—In the course of an interview at Nanning between Dr. Sun Yat-sen and General Chen Chiung-ming, the latter is reported to have laid stress upon the necessity of repose on the part of the Cantonese troops. He is said to have pointed out the difficulty of withdrawing troops from Kwangsi owing to the rampancy of the defeated Kwangsi troops and the shortage of ammunition for the use in hostilities against the North and to have urged the former to put off the projected military operations pending the completion of preparations in general.

However, Dr. Sun having persisted in his decided policy, taking a firm stand, it has in the end been decided to carry out the expedition based on the conditions, as previously reported, exchanged between Dr. Sun and General Chen Chiung-ming. In the meantime, General Li Lieh-chun already arrived at Kweilin and is, it is reported, determined to commence hostilities at any time, provided the shortage of ammunition will be fully replenished.

Peking, Nov. 4.—General Sun Chuan-fang has telegraphed to the Government reporting that, according to General Wu Pei-fu's military plans, regarding the defense of Western Hupeh, the Szechuen troops are once more attacking Ichang.

The situation in Western Hupeh is very important and measures for the defense are being actively carried out. General Sun is uniting with the Commissioner of Defense at Fenyang and asks for $200,000 as military expenses immediately.

Tuchun Li Hou-chi of Fukien asks for permission to increase his army by 500. He is sending a representative to Hsuchow to recruit them. The Chief of Staff has granted permission.

WINE AND SMOKE TAX INCREASES BEING OPPOSED

(Dah Tung News Agency)

Peking, Nov. 4.—Peking proposes to increase the tobacco and wine loan by $500,000 (to U. S. $20,000,000). The tobacco and wine merchants, fearing that this will mean that they will be under worse supervision than ever, have telegraphed opposing the loan.

The Banking group has warned Kao Ling-hwei, the new Finance Minister, to consider the matter very carefully, before carrying it out. Kao is said to have replied that, other than this, there is no way to save the situation, so the matter is still under negotiation.

Russian Charges With Picking Pocket

A Russian, Trifon Kontchecheff, 29 Range Road, describing himself as a commission agent, appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday on the charge of picking the pocket of a Chinese on a North Szechuen Road tramcar. The case was remanded one week.

The story the Chinese told to the police was to the effect that he was riding on the tram when he felt his pocket being picked. Two Russians were standing beside him and when they alighted from the car, near Soochow Road, he followed and asked the one who had been nearest him for his wallet. The foreigner, he said, took off his overcoat, laid it on the window sill of a shop and wanted to fight. The complainant, however, contented himself by picking up the coat and calling for the police, who arrested Kontchecheff, the other man escaping. The wallet was found in the coat.

20 PCT. TAX FAIR BUT DIPLOMATS FEAR FOR GOVT.

(Dah Tung News Bureau)

Peking, Nov. 3.—The Diplomatic Body, in connection with the proposal of China to increase the Customs Tariff by 20 percent, thinks this is quite fair but as the Chinese Government is not reliable they will not take any step in the matter at the present time.

Chinese circles are of opinion that this is the first step towards the withdrawal of recognition of Peking by the foreign powers.

Kiang Chiang-fu (S. C. Kiang) has sent out an appeal on behalf of the starving Russians. The official appeal to the Chinese government has been referred to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Interior and the Bureau of Flood and Famine Relief for discussion, after which a reply will be sent to Mr. Kiang.

Chestnut Season Brings Fire Calls

The advent of the baked chestnut season gave the Brigade two turnouts yesterday morning.

At 11:55 p.m. Thursday a call was turned in and the Sinza Division found a number of baskets in Sinza Market in flames, the sparks from a chestnut oven having set light to same. A line of hose was run out from the hydrant nearby and the blaze promptly extinguished. A number of baskets were destroyed and the ceiling of the market was scorched.

At 4:55 a.m. a call was received from J3275 Seward Road, and the Hongkew men found a stall in an alleyway in flames and the fire already spreading to J3275, a gate house and Nos. 3275-6-7, a Japanese chemist's. Two lines of hose sufficed to prevent the fire spreading and to extinguish it. The stall was destroyed and the adjoining premises were very slightly affected.

Kota Bahroe Estates, Ltd., Meeting

At the first annual general meeting of the Kota Bahroe Rubber Estates (1921) Limited, held yesterday at the offices of the secretaries and general managers at No. 2 Kiukiang Road, a loss for the year's operations of Tls. 37,506.62 was shown. The producing area was given as 1,059 acres with a total area under cultivation of 1,601. Production during the year was nil, due to restricted tapping.

Mr. C. R. Burkill, chairman of the board of directors in his speech said:

"Gentlemen—At the statutory meeting held last May, you were informed that tapping had been discontinued at the end of January on all the Company's estates and for this reason the usual crop statistics are not included in the report before you.

"When the new company took over, there was an area of 60 acres on the 5th Mile Division which had already been felled burnt and cleared and this is now being planted up. At Canning 127 acres have been planted and a further 38½ acres will be planted shortly which will bring the area under cultivation on this property up to 486 acres. At Gunong Rapat all available land has been planted, while as regards Sikamat, although we have a small reserve area of 130 acres, no further extensions are contemplated as it is the Board's intention to sell this estate if a reasonable price can be obtained.

"The position in respect to weeding is that the properties have been kept in a clean weeded condition throughout the period under review and diseases have given very little trouble. Upon the cessation of tapping it was possible to divert our labor to other works requiring attention such as thinning out, timber clearing and cultivation work. Generally speaking labor was adequate throughout the year, though of course a large number had to be discharged when tapping ceased. The health of the force on the whole was fairly satisfactory.

"With the sale of the property at Kota Bahroe it became necessary to erect new quarters for the staff and the manager's bungalow which was under construction at the time the Company went into liquidation has now been completed. In addition to this a clerk's bungalow, Office, Syce's house and a dispensary have been erected. These structures which are all on the 5th Mile Division have been well made and should last for years.

"When tapping is resumed in full again, it is proposed in order to facilitate the working of the Estate to remove the factory buildings from their present position to the 5th Mile.

"The rest from tapping has undoubtedly been of great benefit to the trees and at the end of the financial year the estates were reported to be in excellent condition. The estates have been resting now for ten months and in order to reduce the monthly deficit it has been decided to restart tapping.

"A start will be made on Kota Bahroe and Canning Estates on a moderate scale and it is proposed to harvest 20,000 pounds per month from the two properties. With rubber in the neighborhood of its present figure a considerable reduction in the monthly deficit will be effected. Every possible economy in the working of the estates was effected and I would like to take this opportunity of recording the Directors' appreciation of the work done by the estate managers and staffs.

"In connection with the accounts, there is very little for me to say. As explained in the report, the balance sheet covers a period of only five months to June. 30 1921. As no production took place during this period, details of the Profit and Loss are not given. The profit and loss account, which includes the cost of Liquidation of the old company, shows a loss for the period of $37,506.62 which the Directors propose to carry forward to next year's accounts."

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were then passed:

That the report and accounts for the period ended June 30-1921, together with the recommendation as to appropriation of balance at debit of Profit and loss account as presented be accepted.

That Mr. C. R. Burkill be re-elected a Director of the Company.

That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be elected auditors to the Company at an annual remuneration of Tls. 400 for Shanghai and Penang.

B. W. A. Notes

ART SECTION

A well attended meeting of British Women's Association members desirous of forming an Art Section took place at headquarters on Thursday when those present elected a committee as follows: chairman, Mrs. R. N. Macleod (on her return to Shanghai); honorary treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Williams; honorary secretary, Miss Stott; representative on Executive Committee, Mrs. Gull; members of committee—Miss T. W. Balcan, Miss Meech, Mrs. R. J. Roberts and Mrs. Edwin Wood.

It was provisionally decided that meetings should be held weekly, that a class for sketching from the life should start work forthwith and that those members whose interests lie in the direction of applied art should be provided with facilities for prosecuting this branch of study. Provisional arrangements, to be announced later, were also made for the study of, as well as for a series of lectures upon, Chinese painting. In reference to the latter it should be noted that B. W. A. members interested in art subjects generally, as well as those who wish to practise in any special branch, are eligible for membership of this Section. The annual subscription is $1, which should be remitted to the secretary at headquarters, from whom also forms of application for membership may be obtained.

SPORTS SECTION

Only fifteen members having sent in their names as wishing to play hockey during the winter, it will not at present be possible to form a hockey club. It is hoped, however, to make an announcement in regard to the arrangements that are going forward in connection with Badminton almost immediately. Intending members should write for particulars to Miss Adlam, care of The Ellis Kadoorie Public School for Chinese. Mrs. A. J. Stewart has been obliged, owing to pressure of work, to relinquish the honorary secretaryship of the Sports Section and Miss Adlam takes her place.

CHANGES IN COMMITTEES

The following changes have recently taken place in the Executive Committee of the British Women's Association: Mrs. Billinghurst has resigned the chairmanship of the Association but retains her place on the committee. Mrs. E. M. Gull has become chairman. Mrs. Everall, on leaving Shanghai, resigned the honorary secretaryship of the Association and her membership of the executive committee. Mrs. Cromarty was appointed secretary in her stead. Mrs. Peebles was elected to fill Mrs. Everall's place on the executive committee. Mrs. Borrett and Mrs. Rowland have resigned their seats on the executive committee, and their places have been filled by Mrs. Garton Stone and—subject to her consent on returning to Shanghai—Mrs. Hilton-Johnson, respectively. Messrs. Platt, Macleod, Gregson and Ward have very kindly consented to act as honorary legal advisers and Mr. H. M. Mann as honorary auditor to the Association.

Thirty-three new members joined the B. W. A. during October, thus making fifty-five since the opening of the new headquarters in Kiukiang Road. Two resignations from the Association—the only ones since its inauguration—are recorded from members leaving Shanghai.

MUSICAL POSTPONED

Owing to the indisposition of Mrs. Sykes, the "Chopin Recital" fixed for yesterday afternoon was postponed. The next meeting of the Section will therefore take place on Friday, November 25, when Mrs. O. E. Ryton will read a paper on "Elgar: his Life and Compositions." The names of ladies who contributed the very charming little program of music at the B. W. A. reception on Monday afternoon last at the Country club were Mrs. Armistead, Mrs. N. G. Maitland, Mrs. E. A. Mills, Mrs. Isherwood, Miss Mungall and Miss Pendelton, while that of Miss Dallas, as having provided and made the lovely bouquets that were presented to the two guests of the afternoon on behalf of the Gardening Section, must not be omitted. Another contributing factor to a very pleasant occasion was the splendid Auto piano, lent by the Robinson Piano Co. which played during tea-time.

The meeting arranged to take place at Headquarters on Friday, November 11, Armistice Day, has been postponed.

LINER WENATCHEE ARRIVES IN PORT ON SECOND TRIP

Extensive Improvements Made On Admiral Line Boat Since First Visit

With a full passenger list and a heavy consignment of large and mail for Shanghaia the steamer Wenatchee of the Admiral Line arrived in port yesterday on its second voyage to the Far East.

It may be remembered that on its first voyage the Wenatchee encountered a number of delays that developed from trouble with its machinery and by reason of this the vessel was held in America after its return there for extensive repairs and changes. The improvements made on the ship since its first visit to Shanghai run in cost to more than $150,000 and the ship's record on the voyage it has just completed across the Pacific has been eminently satisfactory.

The Wenatchee came to port under the command of Captain H. C. Thomas, who has been a Pacific Coast skipper for the past thirty years. He succeeds Capt J. E. Guptil. The officers include Harry E. March, Chief Engineer John Grunbach, Chief Officer, C F. Sweeney, Purser, and William Ashman, Chief Steward.

When the vessel sailed from Seattle it carried one of three capacity cargoes that were shipped from Seattle by the Admiral Line in October. One single flour shipment that the vessel has brought to the Far East, consigned to Hongkong, is sufficient to maunfacture 2,000,000 loaves of bread.

Among the passengers on the Wenatchee are Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Massey, who are on a trip around the world. Mr. Massey is Chairman of the directorate of the Massey Concrete Products Corporation of Chicago and is one of the big producers of cement in America. The Masseys are going through to Manila where they expect to join Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Gowan who are now en route to the Philippines on their yacht Speejacks, a 98-foot converted sub chaser, on which they are traveling from New York by way of the Panama Canal.

Mr. John A. Roberts who with Mrs. Roberts is accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Massey is bound for the Philippines to erect a cement plant at Cebu. Mr. and Mrs. Chia Tsun-yeh are on their honeymoon trip and left the ship at Shanghai. The bridegroom has spent the past four years in America, having graduated from Michigan University last June.

Another passenger on the Wenatchee is Senator Celestino Rodriguez of the Philippines senate who is returning to Manila after a visit of two months in the United States.

SIKH IS HELD TO HIGHER COURT ON MURDER CHARGE

Sarwan Singh, Sikh watchman charged with the murder of a fellow countryman, Mangal Singh, in an alleyway off Kiangse Road the night of October 20, was committed to trial in the British Supreme Court at the conclusion of the hearing before Magistrate G. W. King in the British Police Court yesterday.

Mr. J. G. Priestwood, for Sarwan Singh, submitted that no jury would convict the accused on the evidence that had been given, but Mr. R. C. Faithful, the Police Advocate, said a prima facie case had been made out.

Sergt. George Holt of Hongkew Police Station was called by Mr. Priestwood and said that on October 2 Juna and Mangal Singh were brought in for fighting and creating a disturbance and Mangal Singh had a wound on his head which was bleeding profusely.

They were brought before the British Court the next day and fined $5, but both accused the other of causing the trouble.

The Week's Market Report

In their weekly report of the Shanghai Trade, Messrs. Noel, Murray and Company write as follows:

Cotton.—On the 1st inst. in Liverpool, Spot Good Middlings declined to 12.09d. 52 points down, October and December were down 21 points each to 11.77d. and 11.55d. respectively; Bengals were up to 9.57d. and Egyptians to 23.25d. The Bombay market is closed for the New Year holidays. In New York, yesterday, cotton was rather cheaper at 19 cents for Spot, 18.48 cents for January, 18.08 for May and 17.62 cents for July.

The news by the mail of the doings on the New York Cotton market from September 20 and onwards, fills columns of the papers and proceedings almost reached panic pitch when the official low estimate of a 42.2 crop was circulated. The Japanese amongst others took a big lot of cotton off the market, their action being reported as "a coup." Room for 13,000 bales was booked by them and the quantity shipped was probably greater.

Home Market.—Few people are able to say much about the Manchester market at the present time as news to hand is meagre, firms not caring to throw away money on cabling while the chances of anything resulting are remote, Reuter reports that the big combination, Horrocks, have advanced their prices 10 percent, and it is generally known that selling prices here for staples are below those at which they can be replaced.

Local Market.—The position this week is much the same as last, only with deliveries on a declining scale; native bank interest is a few points lower, but is still too high to suit trading purposes and when monied people are offered 17 or 18 percent for their money, they are apt to be tempted to lend it and let trade look after itself. Offers for spot goods are plentiful but the figures are usually too low to induce importers to part. The see-sawing of exchange also has a deterring influence on any attempt to do business, so we are unable to say more than that we are passing through a very depressing period. Hankow on October 26 reported a firm market. Prices for Blacks and Fancies were being maintained but Greys and Whites were slightly weaker, the demand for stock goods still continues. Yarn was in demand, but at prices under those ruling in Shanghai. Some biggish arrivals of American goods are listed, the clearance of the Flannels being especially brisk, also the lighter weights of Shirtings, whereas the 2.85 lb. qualities are sticking. Local mill cloth on order is moving off freely, mostly to the south, but few new orders are in sight at the moment.

ROSENFELD REPORT

China Cotton.—Since our last report was written, our market experienced a further decline as the result of considerable liquidation of speculative holdings, which has so far been followed by only a moderate reaction.

At this time when the country's general condition is being widely discussed and pessimism is running riot in the "Cash" market, which speculators attribute the cause for the decline in cotton, it is not improbable that the disquieting demonstration of the financial market has had the influence on the state of the market, but the principal factor for the decline lies in the fact that Bears feel confirmed in their belief that Domestic Mills have an ample supply of cotton and do not regard the outlook in the light in which some of the local Bulls were trying to place it. Under the circumstances, we cannot look for more than a weak market in the near future and would favor making moderate purchases on declines and selling on any spurt.

Yarn.—During the past week the yarn market has had a generally downward tendency, showing at one time a decline of two to three taels, making a total decline of five to six taels during the week, due to the tightness of the money market. Some 2,000 to 3,000 bales have changed hands between dealers for outports.

SPUNT AND COMPANY

China Cotton.—Owing to the general lack of financial stamina, a very small quantity of the many offerings at reasonable rates were absorbed by Spinners during the past week, and it is due to such circumstances, coupled with the fact of the Mills being fairly well stocked for the time being, that our market evolved a weakish tendency at the close and so long as the prevalent monetarial stringency continues it may reasonably be expected that we may experience fluctuatively further declines of which it would be advisable to take advantage in that such will prove profitable later as the season advances and as there transpires more of a relaxation in the monetarial situation. Tone of the market, Weak.

WEATHER

Overcast and cold weather. Unsteady winds in the north. Regular monsoon in the south. Rough weather over northern Japan.

Propaganda

A FEW days ago Reuter announced to the world, as from an authoritative source, that the Japanese Government has resolved to evacuate Siberia. But the decision, says the report, is awaiting formal action by the cabinet.

This report was published broadcast and had as its aim the calming of public opinion abroad. It probably is more than a coincidence that the above telegram appeared as a reply to a despatch from London the day before, reporting the strong stand taken by the British Labor Party on this question. From many sources come increasingly demands that this region be freed from its unwelcome guests; and it is obvious that to still the threatening storm of public opinion such statements, which are binding upon no one, should be issued from time to time.

There is no doubt that both the Japanese War Office and the Foreign Office give close heed to the state of public opinion in Europe and America regarding the activities of the interventionist forces in Siberia.

Belgium had her scores of correspondents to picture the blighting advance of the Germans, her devastated towns and ruined cathedrals; but the trim ranks of hordes in yellow kakhi, as precise and exact as their European pattern, obeying with expressionless faces, and driving the peasant victims to a fury that culminated in the massacre at Nicolaevsk where a Japanese Consulate and garrison and all Japanese inhabitants were wiped out and the city burned—the details of the Siberian end of the World War have not been told.

It is unfortunate that Europe and America know so little of events in Siberia. The scanty details that arrive, however, are calling forth protests from every side.

Accordingly the Foreign Office at Tokio has been sending out from time to time non-committal and indirect intimations that withdrawal is about to take place. Whenever threatened by interpellations in foreign parliaments, or by too great an interest in the foreign press, these innocuous reports are sent abroad. Again and again, through official news agencies and otherwise, the world is informed that the evacuation is being considered.

But this consideration has been continuing for three years. In the meantime the expeditionary force has occupied northern Saghalien. The mouth of the Amur River has been made a fortified base, maintaining at Nicolaevsk a great garrison with enormous stores of supplies and ammunition. Recently fresh troops were sent to relieve the old. In the Maritime province not only private houses but schools are occupied, bringing to a stop all educational work. The Japanese have seized post, telegraph, and railway communication. Instead of preparing for evacuation they seem to be preparing a war campaign.

The actions of the War Office are the exact contrary of the announced intentions of the Foreign Office. Doubtless the facts are known to the chancelleries abroad, who are usually well informed, but the facts are not known by public opinion. The propaganda agencies through interviews and "authoritative" announcements endeavor to creat the impression that the troops will be withdrawn at the very time that the expeditionary army is being reinforced with men, supplies, and ammunition.

The opportunity presented itself not long ago to announce, officially and over signatures, this long considered event, but the opportunity was declined. The delegates at Dairen representing the Far Eastern Republic made the condition a simple one, that of naming a definite date by which time the complete evacuation would be accomplished; but the interest of the Japanese seemed to be concentrated upon concessions and privileges, after which, it was promised, the matter of evacuation would be considered.

The situation in Eastern Siberia, in the area occupied by the Japanese troops, is no better than it was two years ago. Support is being given to reactionaries such as Merkuloff and Botchkareff. The White Terror has suppressed not only Communists but the labor unions and all liberal elements. The official representative of the Far Eastern Republic, Mr. Zeitlin, who came to Vladivostok on official business, supposedly under the protection of the Japanese Staff, was murdered in the house of a friend by three unknown men who searched the place on a warrant signed by Merkuloff.

The news was received the other day of the suicide of the well known Dr. Popoff, a man of liberal views though not a communist or socialist, universally respected though somewhat unpopular with his colleagues for his determined action in stamping out the dread plague. Conditions so disheartened this public benefactor that though he could, by his severe administrative methods, overcome the "chuma," he could not endure the life he saw about him.

The common life of the city may be conceived when it is remembered that for three years the city as a port of Siberian and Russian trade has ceased to function.

The issue of Japan's remaining in Siberia, however, has broader aspects. On the one hand, it is a question of keeping the Imperialism of Japan as a Pacific power within bounds. On the other hand, it is the problem of securing control over the trade routes of Asia, from the Amur River to Amoy.

The "authoritive" announcement of the impending evacuation thus appears to be pure propaganda. The militarists will not withdraw till they are compelled to do so. Only as a result of strong pressure, direct and indirect, brought to bear, will the evacuation be seriously considered.

Even should the Foreign Office at Tokio resort to an official announcement, the given facts of the case hold true, and memories of diplomatic promises made in the cases of Korea, Manchuria, and Shantung, would deprive the announcement of any meaning.

It is, therefore, in the interest of a stable situation in the Pacific, no less than in the interest of the people who must endure the hardships of an alien army quartered in their country that the delegates of the Far Eastern Republic have a full hearing and a fair opportunity to state their case before the conference at Washington.

SALVAGING OF CIVILISATION

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir.—At an informal meeting held after Dr. Hougkin's lecture last Friday evening, it was suggested that there were many problems in our midst that should be taken up by the league if it were formed. Will those who know of such problems, or have any suggestions, be good enough to forward the same to me in writing, as early as possible, so that they may be considered at the meeting to be held on Friday afternoon next, at the Carlton Cafe?

Thanking you, Sir, for the hospitality of your columns. I am, etc.,

Drifting Germany—Is It Headed For Chaos?

BY FERDINAND TUOHY
(New York World)

Is Germany rapidly drifting toward complete chaos, financial, political and social, after three years of persistent effort to avoid dissolution!

For several weeks all the news coming out of Germany has tended to confirm the worst fears of those who, if only for reasons of trade and commerce, desire to see that country "getting on its feet" once more. The Bavarian threat to sever connection with the Berlin Government, the murder of Erzberger by reactionaries, the open monarchist propaganda carried on by Ludendorff and his friends, the growing weakness of the Cabinet, spoken of as the one honest and sincere Ministry Germany has had since the armistice, the headlong depreciation of the mark; finally, the asserted impossibility of Germany's continuing to pay up her instalments under the reparation agreement—a combination of these main factors may well prove to be the last straw, in the near future. And this without taking into account the Chancellor's extraordinary proposals for raising the next reparation instalment by means of a wholesale expropriation of private property—perhaps the most revolutionary taxation project to be attempted in Europe in a century.

The collapse of Germany at this time would, of course, have the most distressing reaction all around in those countries doing business with her and would set back the clock of world recovery indefinitely, even to the extent of vitally affecting the course of the conference for the limitation of armaments in Washington, since the French would persumably at once extend their occupation of Germany.

One of New York's most prominent citizens, a man whose wide relationships qualify him to speak significantly upon the subject, Darwin P. Kingsley, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York and head of the great New York Life Insurance Company, is a reluctant believer in the gloomy side as above depicted. He has just returned to his office in the New York Life Insurance Company's Building on Broadway, a complete pessimist, after a visit to Europe. He finds that Continent more or less of a financial madhouse and does not see that any concrete move forward in the direction of a new order of international relationship has been effected since November, 1918. And he is not a man, like so many other contemporary cross-Atlantic pilgrims, wont to scatter his broadcast. Occupying a position in the business and commercial life of the State which should give peculiar emphasis and importance to his viewpoint and impressions, Mr. Kingsley, a calm, middle-aged man, was loth to be interviewed. It was evident, incidentally, that he had come in contact with some of the foremost men of the other side, particularly in Germany.

"I think the relationships of the principal nations toward one another are worse now than they were before the war," began Mr. Kingsley. "The mental and spiritual attitude of the people is more bitter, more pronounced. That is the most hopeless feature of it. In the essentials that contribute to peace I should say there has been virtually no progress since the armistice. I am sorry to confess it, but I am a complete pessimist and on the face of things it would be fatuous to be otherwise. Everywhere you look it is much the same—with only two bright spots on the landscape, which I shall come to presently. Consider, for example, France and her attitude toward Germany. Now, I am well aware that France has good reason to take every possible precaution calculated to ward off a repetition of her recent sufferings. She has lived for fifty years in terror of Germany—and she knows. She owes it to her people not to let the present opportunity of asserting herself slip by. But that does not alter the fact that in putting the thumbscrew on vanquished Germany she is merely reverting to the time-honored method resorted to by victors in the past. There is nothing new or enlightened about the way in which she is exasperating Germany in the occupied provinces. She is doing all she can to 'Frenchify' this territory. Further afield, her main effort is directed at breaking up the former German Empire. The political advantages of this to her are obvious. One could not help agreeing with the dictum of a prominent German who summarised the position in rather informal language: 'If this continues much longer, we'll all go to hell together.'"

Mr. Kingsley was asked what was specifically meant by "this."

MUST GET BACK TO EARTH

"Why, they all need to come down to earth over there—financially, politically and in every other way. France and Germany are running Government by the printing press. They just churn out notes without any program. A bad crash is only a question of time unless they get back to earth. An extraordinary feature of a trip in Europe at the present time concerns the number of banks you see. They have sprung up on all sides. Heaven knows where the money is to put in them. There isn't any. It just means that a deal of mad gambling in paper money is going on. It's the nearest approach to a financial madhouse that one could well imagine. Take this as an example: A German, well in the forefront of affairs but whose name I do not feel at liberty to mention, expressed himself decisively to me in these words: 'On August 31 we pay a billion gold marks as the first instalment to the Allies under the reparation agreement. I don't see how Germany is going to pay the next instalment. It cannot be done. That is simply all there is to be said about it.'

"Meanwhile," proceeded Mr. Kingsley, "Germany may blow up any day politically. I was informed on authority which I have every reason to respect that if the present Government should fall, there is every chance of civil war supervening. It is very necessary for Americans to understand and to appreciate the present state of mind and heart of the German people. The impression I took away was that of an overpowering sense of shame and rage possessing every German. Those who once rattled the sabre are today in the dust. Apply that picture to our own country and you will get an idea of just how the German feels. I am not seeking to justify his attitude. Nor am I condemning it. I am just stating the fact. I carried away an impression, first and last, of an inexpressible humiliation throughout Germany. Others will add that much of the German resentment is directed toward the United States, whose intervention, it is widely felt, lost Germany the war, and such observers will go further and say that Germany contemplates nursing a spirit of revenge against this country. Of that extreme view I am not qualified to speak. But let me make it quite clear that Germany shows no trace of repentance for her precipitation of the war and her subsequent conduct of it. Of all the Germans I met only one expressed the slightest regret for anything. He said: 'For the Lusitania and for indiscriminate U boat warfare all honest Germans must forever blush.' Not a single German would admit that Germany was more at fault at the beginning of the war than England or Russia."

Contrary to the opinions of so many returning voyagers, Mr. Kingsley does not believe that there is any chance of a restoration of the Hohenzollerns.

THE POWER OF STINNES

"Germany seems to have made up its mind on that score. No monarchist restoration would appear to be possible. The elements opposed to such a change in policy are too numerous and widely distributed."

"But Stinnes? He is the uncrowned King of Germany and a monarchist?"

"Well, he certainly is the one man in the country. He seems to be everything and to own everything—hotels, newspapers, coal mines, steamships. One day I asked a friend who owned the hotel we were passing in Berlin. 'Stinnes,' came the answer. A little later came a second hotel and I inquired again. 'Stinnes,' was the reply once more. And so it went on. There didn't appear to be much in the neighborhood that the man didn't own! And they say he has still a long way to go. He is certainly the leading figure in the back-to-work movement in Germany. For make no mistake, Germany is working. And she has precious little unemployment—a total of something like 40,000 unemployed, I believe, throughout the country. I remember on entering Berlin at 6 in the morning I saw long lines of workmen tramping to work. It is the same everywhere. And American manufacturers will find it increasingly difficult, if not impossible, to compete with the goods Germany is turning out. The cost of living has, of course, gone up in Germany, but nothing like what one would imagine from the state of the exchange. Germany can manufacture much more cheaply than America, because wages in Germany are so low, averaging 60 or 70 cents a day. Germans are competing on the London markets with complete success. No one can compete with a country turning out its goods at such ridiculously low figure relative to the international state of exchange. Because the mark is worth less than a cent to an American, that is not to say that it is of trifling value in Germany itself. The soaring of the dollar work against us as long as the present condition of currency endures. Within the limits of raw material, no one in the world can compete with Germany as she is manufacturing and exporting today. What we need to bear in mind is the price of the mark expressed in labor."

Mr. Kingsely was dubious about a policy for righting affairs.

LACK OF A PROGRAM

"I can only say that I don't think Americans should buy German securities or extend credit to Germans until the latter adopt some sort of program calculated to bring them ultimately down to earth. It seems to me that the best thing France and Germany can do is to repudiate their respective internal debts. Of course they cannot repudiate their external debts and maintain any credit whatever."

"And did you carry back no pleasing impression from the other side, Mr. Kingsely?"

"Well, yes—one. Or perhaps I should say, two. The first has no reference to this interview. Nothing impressed me more over there than the grave of Quentin Roosevelt. It is all alone, miles from anywhere out beyond Belleau Woods and within a few yards of where he fell. But people are already making a road up to it—with their feet. What a resting place compared with the unfortunate notion of bringing back our dead! Quentin's grave promises to become second only to his father's at Oyster Bay in attracting pilgrims. Tourists in motor cars come specially off the main Rheims road to visit it.

OUR FINE TROOPS ON RHINE

"The other memory I like to conserve is that of the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine, now shrivelled to 13,000 men but the finest body of troops ever assembled under one command. It will be a pity if they are brought back—at least yet awhile. I confess that as I looked up at Old Glory waving above Ehrenbreitstein I said to myself that it had no business there, yet without the slightest doubt if we withdraw from the Rhine we shall be laying Europe open to new dangers. Our presence at Coblenz has a most restraining and mollifying effect and our departure will be at once felt. The French will, of course, troop in to our men's billets. As for the ridiculous tale that the doughboys are unpopular on the Rhine, you may just say this: the other day, upon hearing that President Harding contemplated withdrawing the American contingent, a deputation of business men of Coblenz came to Gen. Allen and offered to defray the further cost of upkeep of the A. E. F. on the Rhine if the boys stayed on! And they meant it. Also, all these stories of homesickness among the rank and file is so much nonsense. They are having the time of their lives and their conduct is a credit to the uniform they wear. I can only hope, speaking in no way sentimentally but purely from a business standpoint, that the American Army of Occupation will not be withdrawn too precipitately. We are rendering a real service under critical conditions."

MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS

While jogging along on Life's highway you go
There is plenty to draw your attention;
You'll lose many a friend and make many a foe
If you will break the rules of convention,
"To mind your own business," is one of the rules,
And if you most wilfully break it,
You'll count as a meddler and one of the fools—
So list to advice and then take it.

In minding your business—well, never forget
That the sorrows and troubles of others
Are part of your business, with care to be met,
For sorrows and joys make men brothers.
In straining for honor or pleasure or pelf,
Just make it your business to share them;
'Tis nobody's business to live for himself—
So gather Life's flowers and wear them.

When minding your business, there comes in your way
A poor, saddened heart that is breaking;
Just make it your business to brighten its day,
And charm away some of its aching.
The business that selflessness hastens to mind
Is that which makes saddened hearts lighter;
So make it your business some business to find
To make the world better and brighter.

Shanghai Volunteer Corps Notes

GENERAL

All ranks of the Corps who served under or otherwise knew Brig-General Bray will have heard of his death with sorrow. The Commandant, at the mess dinner last Wednesday, referred to the fact that no news was available as to the circumstances of this gallant officers' decease. Since then, however, the following announcement in the London Gazette of Sept. 9th has come to light:

"Duke of Wellingtons' Regiment. Lt. Col. R. N. Bray. C. M. G., D S. O., retires on retired pay on account of ill-health contracted on active service (Sept. 10) and is granted the honorary rank Brig-General"

It is therefore practically certain that the cause of his death can be traced to the very severe gassing that he underwent on one occasion in Flanders during the War.

GUN PRACTICE SUNDAY

The gun practice of the F. A. B. will commence at Woosung at 10-30 a.m. on Sunday next. Spectators will be welcome. Those who wish to travel by rail can do so by a train leaving Shanghai North Station at 9 a.m. The Battery will be in action in the triangular shaped enclosure close to the breakwater at the Whangpoo river mouth. Cars can be taken to within a few yards of the spot. The targets will be placed in the main river under the direction of the Maritime Company. For those who have never seen howitzer practice it may be explained that this is extraodinarily interesting from the fact that the shell can be seen to leave the muzzle and can be followed with the naked eye for some considerable distance, whilst field glasses enable its flight to be followed for several thousand yards.

The Commandant will personally keep spectators informed as to what is going on during the practice and will explain the various effects of the three kinds of fuzes used with the shell.

Uniform is obligatory only in the case of members of the F. A. B., and of Headquarters on duty in connection with the practice.

An error unfortunately crept into the list of prizes won at the Annual Rifle Meeting, which was published recently, the typist having inserted by misunderstanding names and scores under the heading "Aggregate Prizes," As all competitors are doubtless aware, there are no prizes of this nature, the awards for the best Aggregate being the Gold, Silver and Bronze Crosses, and the Consolation Aggregate prize for the fourth best. The names and scores referred to, should, therefore, be deleted from the list.

A further error was omission of the name of Mrs. T. Nagasawa from the list of Ladies Prizes. She wins the 9th prize through the success of her champion, Pte. F. M. da Silva who scored 84 on her behalf.

The Prize Distribution will take place at the Town Hall on December 1st. Details of arrangements will be published later.

FIELD ARTILLERY BATTERY

The Annual Rifle meeting will take place on Sunday week, the 13th, entries for which are now due. The scores will count for the Annual Musketry Course, so it is essential that all members of the Battery compete. The entrance fee will be $3.

"B" COMPANY BRITISH

An interesting night's work was carried out on Tuesday last when the Unit paraded for night operations at 8:30 and dismissed at 11:45 p.m. The scheme, which had been worked out by Lieutenant Beytagh, was that an outpost was defending a section of the Jessfield Railway line and for this purpose had taken up their position some 300 yards East of the line. The attacking force, under command of Sergt T. G. Main, started from the Edinburgh Road end of the Tunsin Line. The scouts sent out by the defence did their work remarkably well, detecting and reporting the advance without being discovered themselves. The scouts of the attacking force were also good, sending back reports from time to time, but did not succeed in locating the defenders until they were fired on at about 50 yards range. The Commander then left a small containing force to keep the defence occupied whilst he succeeded in getting round the right of the defence without offering a sufficiently large enough target to warrant his being put out of action. In effect, he succeeded in surrounding the outpost and therefore had the best of the operations.

The objects of the operation were, primarily, night work over strange country and march discipline. These, together with the scouting, were well carried out by both sides. The whole operation was left to the N. C. O's to conduct and both Sergt. Main and Corpl. Boyde proved themselves capable leaders. The Main point for criticism is that only 65 percent of the Unit attended

The Unit will hold an informal dance at the Town Hall on Saturday, November 12, at 9 p.m. The November Monthly cups will be fired for at the Rifle Range on the same day at 6 a.m.

Attention is drawn to the Unit order sent out on November 2, giving details of the Annual Camp.

There will be no parade of the S. V. C. on Armistice Day so that the reference in the recent Unit Order re-this may be igored.

SHANGHAI SCOTTISH

The dance which the Scottish held at the Astor House on Monday evening was successful in every way and was the direct means of recruiting séveral new members.

Arrangements are now in hand for the Camp which will be held at the end of this month and there is every possibility that, with the permission of the Commandant of the Corps, a ladies competition will be held during the time the men are in camp.

H. M. S. Hawkins have challenged the company to a shooting match, a challenge which has been accepted The conditions are: Championship course, 200,500 and 600 yards. One sighter and seven shots at each range. The Scottish team will be chosen from the following: C. S. M. McKelvie, Sergt. P. Campbell, Corpl. F. Gates, L/c T. W. R. Wilson, Petes. A. Taylor, P. G. Tate, B. G. Wilson, J. Macbeth, J. R. Moodie, W.G. Cameron, J. M. Pearson, A. Youngson, and J. P. Stalker. The match is to take place on Saturday, November 12, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and those interested are invited to attend.

Five Killed When Bombing Plane Drops Into Big Crowd

FIVE persons were killed and more than a score injured when a giant Martin bombing plane, taking off from a flying field at Moundsville, W. Va., plunged into a line of automobiles. When the plane struck the automobiles one of the gasoline tanks exploded, spreading fire over the cars and destroyed sixteen of them. Most of the dead and injured were seated in the burning machines. Lieutenants C. R. MacIver and E. H. Dunton, in charge of the plane, escaped injury. Lieutenant Dunton explained afterward that one of the light motors stopped, causing the plane to swerve, right after the take-off, and the control levers refused to work properly, making it impossible to swing clear of the crowd. The above photograph was taken just as the plane's gasoline tank exploded, immediately after it hit the row of autos.

Prof. Einstein Plagiarised Theory, Declares Savant

Paris, Oct. 17.— The greatest scandal that the scientific world has known for years has been caused by the accusation by Professor Mathias, of the Nordjenskiold Observatory, that Professor Einstein took his theories bodily from the works of Professor Sohnberg, of Heidelberg.

The charge particularly refers to Einstein's latest revelation that space does not exist.

"The whole theory exposed by Einstein is taken from the works of Professor Sohnberg of Heidelberg University," states Professor Mathias.

"Professor Sohnberg was born about the middle of the last century, the humble son of a humble grocer. Nothing pointed to the fact that he would one day become one of the world's most revered savants.

"But, as Stevenson played with steam, so did the young Sohnberg play with matches. Fire and flame fascinated him. The mystery of fire became the absorbing quest of his life. And by experiments with obscured candle-flame he established the fact which Einstein now heralds to the world as his own discovery—that there is no such thing as space.

"As a boy his father beat him for stealing candles from the store, but his mother, some sixth sense telling her perhaps of the destiny before her son, continued to secretly supply him with candles with which he continued his juvenile experiments.

"He devoured, at the age of fourteen, such weighty volumes as Michelson's 'Rotivity of the Mass,' Loretz's 'The Substituton of the Electro-Magnetic Mass for the Physical Mass,' Canter's 'Logic and Logicians' and Tannberg's 'Introductory Study on the Functions of the Variable.'

"Once, working in his laboratory, he discovered that his candle had an obscure flame—that is to say, a flame which existed and yet which did not illuminate. The same phenomenon may be remarked on any gas jet.

"Hundreds of people, scientists and others, must have noticed the same fact before, but to none of them did it tell what it told Sohnberg—that space was non-existent.

"Not only space but time vanished before his eyes. The atom took on a new form; the infinite became measurable. After years of work he set down his experiences and definitely proved his theories.

"And now comes Einstein, the man of mathematics, with exactly the same idea, expressed in the same language. What are we to conclude if it is not that Einstein stole his theory?"

French scientific papers are devoting pages to the controversy, the majority siding with Einstein.
